INJURED IN A COLLISION

A BAD RAILROAD WRECK NEAR BLOOMINGTON.

Runaway Car Crashes Into a Passenger at Junction of Illinois Central and Lake Erie & Western Roads.

Bloomington, Aug. 24.—Thirty or more passengers were seriously injured, some perhaps fatally, by a peculiar collision at the junction of the Illinois Central and Lake Erie & Western railroads two miles southeast of this city shortly before noon to day. While a passenger train west bound on the latter road was passing over the crossing a car of stock which was being pushed by aswitch engine on the Illinois Central broke loose from the engine and dashed into the side of the passenger train, breaking a coach in two and injuring nearly every one of the sixty occupants. The coach was thrown over on its side and partially down an embankment. The train crew removed the injured to neighboring farm houses and others were rought to the hospital in this city.

CALLED OUT.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Waiters and cooks employed in several downtown lunch rooms were called out on a strike early to day. The number of men responding to the order was small owing to the small forces on duty at the time.

The attempt of officials of the waiters' union to tie up the Chicago restaurants to day proved a failure, not a single establishment having been compelled to close for lack of help. Out of 9,000 members ordered to strike not 10 per cent responded to the summons. The calling of the strike by the local board without consulting various local unions is said to have been responsible for refusal to obey the order and indications to night are the strike will end disastrously to the union.

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 24.—A murder committed some time last spring was discovered here to day. While hunting Oliver Johnson watched his dog dig into the earth and uncover a dead body in a cluster of bushes. The head was severed from the body and flesh gnawed by muskrats. The body was well dressed, but nothing was found to identify the man. Both sides of the skull were crushed at the temple.

ELEPHANT ON RAMPAGE.

New York, Aug. 24.—Enraged at the sight of a man dressed in scarlet standing outside a dentist's office as an advertisement, a big elephant broke away from its keeper at Sixth avenue and 36th street to day and chased the man on the sidewalk. The fugitive from the elephant's wrath ran into the hallway and upstairs and when the elephant tried to follow him he got jammed in the doorway. Backing out he tore the farmework from the door entirely away, and when a policeman tried to bring theanimal into subjugation he tumbled the policeman aside. None knows just who the elephant belongs to. He was a part of a small section of a circus being taken to the Forty-second street railway station to be shipped to Connecticut. Besides him there was a donkey and two red wagons drawn by horses. A man with the circus outfit called the elephant "George." Everybody else in the neighborhood called him a terror.

The chaampion is ready and anxious to sign articles to meet Jack Munroe, but Munroe is not considered a strong enough card here. Jeffries frankly admits that the purse will cut no figure in a fight with Munroe. He wants to wipe out the memory of that fight with Munroe at Butte. Some of those supposed to be in Jeffries' confidence say that if he does not get a match with Munroe he may retire from the ring. There re now no championship candidates of his calibre in sight, and he wants to start a cattle ranch.

MASSACRES AND ATROCITIES

COMMITTED BY TURKS ON INNOCENT PEOPLE.

Houses are Destroyed and Men, Women and Children Butchered--Insurgents Attack Turkish Town—Anarchy Exists.

Sofia, Aug. 24.—Turks are reported to have massacred all women and children in twenty-two villages in the districts of Florina and Monastir and to have afterward burned the villages. They also are alleged to have killed a number of prisoners. The streets of Krushevo are said to be strewn with dead and survivors are afraid to bury the bodies, fearing to incur the suspicion of Turks. Following proclamation of the revolution throughout the vilayet of Adrianople insurgents cut all telegraph lines connecting the city of Adrianopolis with the eastern parts of the vilayet.

Reports from Monastir, authenticated by Russian and Austrian consuls, give horrifying details of massacres and atrocities at the village of Armensko. Turks destroyed 150 houses out of a total of 157 and massacred every man, woman and child. The women were subjected to the most terrible atrocities by soldiers. Eight revolutionists captured at Krushevo who were sent in the direction of Monastir in chains were slaughtered by guards. The sanitary conditions at Krushevo are described as revolting. Dead are lying in the streets, stripped of every garment.

With rumors of massacres and the murder of prisoners in Monastir, now authenticated, the general situation is considered here as fast becoming intolerable. Official and diplomatic circles alike are concerned, having every occasion to fear that only part of the horrors have come to light. While many reports remain without confirmation, sufficient authentic details are forthcoming to cause the authorities the gravest anxiety. According to a Sofia paper Turks committed unspeakable artocities at Krushevo. The mutilated corpses of ninety women and children were found in one building. Pieces of bodies had been thrown into the street. Fifteen of the principal merchants in the town were killed and their heads put on poles. Buildings were demolished, houses sacked and the town is now a heap of ashes. The populace fled to the hills, where they are in a serious condition. The paper also asserts a general massacre has taken place in the whole vilayet of Monastir. Nearly all vilages have been destroyed. The treacherous murder of eighty insurgent prisoners by their guards near Monastir has made an especially bad impression here. Many rumors are current of massacres in the city of Adrianople, but confirmation is lacking.

A traveler who arrived this evening from Adrianople states that a massacre of Christians occurred there Sunday morning. One person says the guns in one of the forts opened fire on one of the insurgent bands which held one of the posts and they fell upon the Christians.

Salonica, Turkey, Sunday, Aug. 22.—An insurgent movement is afoot in the vilayet of Salonica. Well informed persons here shae in the general disquietude. Large bands are reported to have organized by the Bulgarians, who, it is expected, at a given signal may resort to general incendiarism. The Turkish poulation is resolved to exterminate all Bulgarians in this vicinity shoudl they break out.

ANARCHY REIGNS.

Anarchy exists at Losengrad. Fighting is proceeding everywhere in the neighborhood. Insurgent bands have occupied strategic points around Malkoterbevo. Eight villages north of Losengrad were burned by Bashi Bazouks, while insurgents attacked two Turkish points in that vicinity and killed the entire garrisons of sixty soldiers. At Almogic sixty insurgents engaged in fighting with 300 Bashi Bazouks. The result is not yet ascertained. The town of Bunar Hissar has been burned and part of the Bulgarian population massacred. The rest of the Bulgarians fled to the mountains.

After Burgas Majura after eighteen hours fighting the garrison was killed by rebels, who also destroyed the garrisons of Silklihor and Kalovo. At Caracunvo insurgents killed fifty-seven Turks, while fifteen Turks were kileld at Kurkolibi. Macedonian leaders admit the insurrection in Monastir is practically at an end and appear to pin their hopes on transfer of active operations to territory near the Bulgarian frontier.

Constantinople, Aug. 24.—According to Turkish advices when insurgents captured Vasiliko, in the eastern part of the vilayet of Adrianople, they killed the garrison, consisting of fifteen soldiers, and about one hundred inhabitants. Insurgents are now threatening Midia, sixty miles northwest of Constantinople, on the Black sea, and are reported also to be attacking the important town of Kirk-Killoseh, thirty-two miles from Adrianopole.

Vienna, Aug. 24.—The Neu Freie Presse Constantinople correspondent telegraphs a band of Bulgarians attacked the Turkish town of Degna, south of Inada, on the east coast of Turkey, and blew up the government building with dynamite. It is reported 200 persons were killed.

DESIRE WAR.

London, Aug. 24.—According to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Mail all Turkish military men strongly desire war with Bulgaria. Mobilization of the army continues on a large scale. The war minister has signed contracts with Krupp and Mauser for 200 field guns, 200,000 rifles and 100,000,000 cartridges at a cost of $12,500,000.

Detroit, Aug. 24.—Police to day issued a circular which they are sending broadcast asking for the arrest of Charles Price, alias Emil Waltz, a moulder, on suspicion of being the murderer of little Alphose Wilmes, whose mutilated body was found last Tuesday in the rear of the Michigan Stove company works.

Police say they have a person to whom Price recently made a proposition to get a child, cut the child open and see what was inside. They also say they have other evidence which will not be divulged at present. Price is a former convict and was once charged with manslaughter.

BANKER'S WIFE SUICIDES.

New York, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Mary Kleeburg, wife of Philip Kleeburg, a millionaire stock broker and promoter, whose offices are at 25 Broad street, committed suicide last night in their apartments, No. 3 Riverside avenue. According to Kleeburg there was no cause why she should kill herself. She was seemingly in good spirits and had just finished serving an evening tea to some of her friends. After they had gone she went to her room and drank corbolic acid.

CATTLE FEEDERS

Improved Prospect for Corn has Increased the Demand for Stock.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 24.—The improved prospect for a corn crop in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana has constrained the cattle feeders of those states to strike out in search of feeding cattle. More of them have been on this market the past week than during any week of the season and while a few went away disappointed the majority secured the supplies they sought. The increased demand has caused the cattle growers of the southwest to let loose larger supplies and a big trade in thin cattle has been the result. Until the past week or ten days there has been a scarcity of high grade feeding cattle, the owners holding them back for a better market. Southwestern cattlemen believed there would be a very short corn crop and that in consequence cattle prices would improve. There is a conviction now that the corn crop will be not so bad, after all, and that corn for feeding will be comparatively cheap. Many loads of high grade feeders have been on the market the past week and have been quickly taken by the eastern feeders at satisfactory prices. Good feeders weighing 1,000 to 1,100 pounds have been selling at $3.50 to $4 and prime high grade ones at $4 to $4.30 per hundred. These prices are sufficient to induce the southwestern stockmen to send forward their stock and insure a good supply for the next few weeks.

Among the eastern feeders who have taken out stock the past ten days are the following: Illinois, George Cowden, Cambridge; August Kaiser, Atkinson; W. M. Holmes, Monticello; P. Knudson, Berlin; J. A. Kelley, Irving; Ballenbach Bros., Champaign; J. Van Gorder, Galesville; J. M. Hendrix, Arthur Hendrix and E. V. Raunebarger, Maroa; J. B. Fuller, Fullerton; F. H. Mahan, C. B. Tongate and T. R. Quarton, Carlinville; C. B. Glasgow and C. R. Scroggin, Boody; Campbell Bros., Danville; P. R. Klein, Ashland; A. Brian, W. Walls, W. T. Parkin and A. C. Moffett, Waverly; J. A. Shrout, Morrisonville; A. Washburn, Chatham; G. C. Washburn, Springfield; E. F. Mikel, Bloomington; J. W. Bratt, Mason City; J. L. Bergschneider, Ashland; A. James, Mansfield.

Iowa, A. M. Garrett, Letts; E. Thomas, Fairfield; H. M. Fife, Seymour; R. J. Marsh and Howard & Sons, Garrison; P. Bruce, Carlisle, and S. Aldrich, New Virginia.

FAVOR CONSOLIDATION.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Consolidation of all Chicago street car lines is a solution of the traction problem favored by Judge Grosscup and planned by the union traction receivers. According to a statement made to day by a receiver the basis of one city fare is considered by the receivers to be the best foundation upon which to ask franchises of the city. The court favors this plan, as do also the protective committee representing the companies and a large proportion of the shareholders.

NEW TROTTING RECORD MADE

LOU DILLON GOES A MILE IN TWO MINUTES.

The Last Quarter was Made in Twenty-nine Seconds—Weather and Track Conditions were Perfect—Other Races

Readville, Mass., Aug. 24.—Before a great crowd to day and with track and weather conditions perfect and two runners, Lou Dillon trotted a mile in two minutes, a new world's record. On the second attempt the word was given. The trotter and runners went to the quarter pole in 30¼ seconds. With never a skip Lou Dillon went so smooth-gaited down the back stretch as to lead those not timing the mile to believe her speed not fast. The half went in 1:00¾. Around the turn to the three-quarters pole the clip quickened, the three-quarters being in 30¼ seconds, making that mark of her journey 1:31. To the amazement of all the last quarter was made in 29 seconds, thus making the wonderful time, two minutes. When Sanders jogged the mare back to the wire people leaped to their feet and sent forth cheer after cheer. Lou Dillon apparntly was as fresh as though she had only been out for jogging exercise. Sanders said he fully believed that before the season closes he will drive the mare in 1:59 or better. The previous record of 2:02¼, held by Cresceus, was made at Columbus, Ohio, last year. NEGEOES HAD PICNIC

Took Possession of a Private Lawn—Crowd Attempts to Lynch Colored Man.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—To prevent a possible lynching a Chicago colored man and woman were spirited away from a crowd surrounding the jail at Batavia, Ill., to day and locked up in the city prison at Geneva. The prisoners had been arrested after a series of violent encounters between residents of the village and participants in a picnic of negroes. Three thousand negroes made up a picnic party at Mill creek, two miles south of Batavia. They took possession of Mrs. George Burton's lawn and when she ordered them to leave she was attacked by two negro women. City Marshal Kelly arrested the two women, but a crowd of negroes released the prisoners, leaving Kelly unconscious upon the ground.

Later Sheriff Burk, of Geneva, with a posse of forty-five citizens arrested William Allen, Harry Bell and Fanny Shelby, taking them from a train at Batavia after a desperate battle in a coach and on the depot platform. Both Bell and the Shelby woman were locked up in the town jail till the gathering of a large crowd of citizens caused city officials to order their removal to Geneva. Allen was released.

He says the lepers are "well housed, well cared for, well fed, well clothed and as contented as people in their unfortunate condition could possibly be. A KICKING HORSE

Animal Driven by William Layman Demolishes Buggy and Occupants Force to Jump From Vehicle.

William Layman and John Kennedy were the victims of a kicking horse Sunday evening while driving on West State street. The animal got one of the lines under its tail when in front of the residence of L. Seeberger and in less time than it takes to tell it had kicked Layman, who was driving, and Kennedy out of the buggy, kicked off the dashboard and front partition of the piano box buggy they were driving and bolted for the open gate of the residence of Mrs. Felix Farrell. The buggy struck against the stone hitching post and demolished one wheel entirely and broke one of the thills and the single tree. This loosened the horse from the vehicle and he continued through the gate, the harness catching on the gate posts and everything but the bridle was torn from him. As soon as the animal found himself free he seemed satisfied and made no further effort to run or kick.

As soon as the horse began to kick Layman saw it was dangerous to remain in the buggy and jumped out or tried to, but fell between the wheels and was dragged a short distance, as he pluckily held onto the lines. Kennedy managed to get out as the horse crossed the car tracks, but not before he had been kicked in the stomach, although he did not get the full force of the blow. Layman was up as soon as the hind wheel of the buggy passed over him and was after the horse, which he had no trouble in catching. The accident drew a large crowd and the young men had a most fortunate escape, as the animal has the reputation of being vicious and certainly gave an exhibition of her temper by the manner in which she used her heels. The animal was skinned about the legs, but otherwise uninjured.

LIMPERS, ATTENTION!

The auditor of the biggest work on political economy published used to walk along the streets of Boston with one foot in the gutter because he thought he was lame The old scholar was very absent minded and a little eccentric. Lots of folks are lame—but they don't know it. They're in limping health most of the time—can't do the things they want the way they want. So they lean on coffee. Mocon Cereal Coffee gives natural strength. It is a perfect substitute for coffee—equal to the best in deliciousness of flavor and aroma. It makes the blood red, the whites of the eyes clear. A lively brain and strong nerves back of those symptoms. Even seasoned coffee rounders take to Mocon, The Food Drink, like ducks to a clear stream—Man's Best Drink.

WAGON BROKE DOWN.

One of the coal wagons belonging to George W. Stout met with an accident on West College avenue near Westminster street Monday morning. The wagon was heavily loaded and one of the hind wheels gave away precipitating the load and driver to the ground without ceremony. No one was injured and another wagon secured and the coal transferred.

DOWIE'S BASEBALL RULES.

Would Ban the National Game on the Righteousness Plan.

A Chicago dispatch to the New York World says that Dr. Dowie has started out to change the rules of the national game of baseball. These are some of the rules which have been introduced in the Zion City games:

"No bases shall be stolen. Thievery is sinful and must be put down by the faithful.

"The pitcher shall not use deceit on delivering the ball, for deceit is sinful. The curve must be cut out.

"There shall be no umpires, for they are a race of liars, and their sayings breed strife and discontent.

"Brethren who meet upon the field must play the game in brotherly love and not in contention and self glorification, for in that way lies destruction."

RUTH BRYAN TO ENTER HULL HOUSE.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Mrs. W. J. Bryan and daughter, Miss Ruth, left to-night for their home at Lincoln, Neb., after having spent several days in this city. One of the objects of the trip was a visit to the Hull House settlement, at Halsted and Polk streets, an institution supported by charities for the benefit of the poorer classes and conducted by Miss Jane Addams, the noted sociologist.

It is the intention of Miss Bryan to take up the settlement work, becoming a member of the Hull House staff, early in the fall.

Miss Bryan, who is 19 years of age, is the eldest daughter of William Jennings Bryan. She has been a student at the University of Nebraska during the past two years. She is a young woman of unlimited energy and with an ambition to accomplish something in the way of assisting the class of children fostered by Miss Addams and others interested in such work.

The Hull House was founded in a small way through the efforts of Miss Addams about ten years ago, and with the assistance of wealthy and philanthropic people has extended in scope until it has become one of the leading factors in sociological work in the country.

Miss Bryan and her mother have been deeply interested in the settlement for a long time, and while the position will involve somewhat of a sacrifice to Miss Bryan, she feels that she will be engaging in a pleasant and meritorious work.

SET OF DICKENS $130,000.

Extravagance of a Cashier Who Killed Himself.

When Howard T. Goodwin, cashier for Cassatt & Co., bankers and brokers of Philadelphia, killed himself last December it was said that, aside from his stock speculation, his only extravagance was book buying. To what lengths Goodwin carried this, says a late Philadelphia dispatch, develops as a result of the cataloguing of his library, valued at several hundred thousand dollars, preparatory to its being offered for sale. He permitted himself indulgences in first editions, editions de luxe, rare works and extra illustrated volumes that halted at no expense.

Pre-eminent in the collection is a set of Dickens for which Goodwin had contracted to pay the enormous price of $130,000. There were to have been 125 volumes with an extra portfolio of illustrations. When Goodwin committed suicide only three volumes had been delivered to him.

ENGINEER KILLED

At Hamilton on Wabash Road—Death Due to Negligence of Fireman who Failed to Reach Switch in Time.

Engineer A. E. Rulon, of Bluffs, was killed on the Wabash near Hamilton, Ill., Monday morning through the negligence of his fireman. The local freight which Rulon was pulling, had sidetracked for the morning passenger train. The engine with one car went ahead to make a switch ahead of the train and after passing the main track the fireman of the local freight engine went back for the purpose of resetting the switch. The passenger was approaching and the fireman thinking he could make the switch post in time to throw the switch right, signaled the engineer of the passenger to come ahead. He failed, however, to get to the switch in time with the result the passenger engine and train followed the local freight engine and car in on the sidetrack, striking it with great force and mashing Engineer Rulon between the tender and cab. Rulon lived but 35 minutes. He is survived by a wife and family and had recently moved from Pittsfield to Bluffs.

ROOF GARDEN CHURCH.

Doors of a Chicago Edifice to Be Open Night and Day.

The members of the Metropolitan Church of Christ in Chicago will build a magnificent place of worship at Oakley boulevard and Van Buren street, and one of its features will be a roof garden, says the Kansas City Times.

"If the theatrical folk can make a roof garden so popular why cannot the people of the church?" asked the pastor.

And the people answered, "We can."

This Christian roof garden is to be modeled after those where pleasure is the only thought. It is to surmount a magnificent building. The cost of the latter is placed at $80,000. Gardeners and florists are to be called to do all in their power to enhance the roof's beauty. It is not intended to make the place interesting wholly by the preaching of sermons.

All church entertainments are to be held on the roof garden. There quartets will sing and musicians play throughout the summer months. Another feature of this new church is the fact that its doors are never to be closed.

"What's the use of having a place of worship that is closed six-sevenths of the time?" demanded the Rev. Charles Reign Scoville, the pastor.

"There is no use," answered his congregation. And it was decided never to close the doors.

That means all departments of the church will be wide open. Any one feeling a bit too wideawake to seek sleep can visit the library at any hour of the night and there find literature that will certainly do him no harm. There is but one roof garden church in the world, and the Metropolitan roof garden place of worship will be the first of its kind in Chicago. The auditorium will be 75 by 116 feet. A large gallery will increase its seating capacity. The new church will also have a large gymnasium. It is not the intention to allow only the members of the church to use this. The boys and girls of the neighborhood, whether they are members of any church, will be invited. The musical department will be unusually strong. It is expected the concerts will do much to make the roof garden a popular place in the hot summer months.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Hatch Offers Chance to Save Money Which Does Not Come Often.

When one can buy gold dollars for 50 cents, it is natural to think they are counterfeit. But when a reliable business man tells you that if any one refuses the dollar, he will return what you paid for it, confidence is established at once.

It is in just this way that Hatch, the popular druggist, is selling Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, offering the regular 50-cent size of this celebrated remedy at half price, and agreeing to return the money if it does not give perfect satisfaction and do all that is claimed for it.

This is your opportunity, and one which does not come often. Do not neglect it. Dr. Howard's specific will cure constipation, will regulate digestion, will restore the liver to natural action. If it did not they could not afford to offer to refund the money unless it performed just what they claim for it.

So great is the demand for this specific that they have been able to secure only a limited supply, and you should take advantage of this opportunity to-day and call upon them or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this specific half price offer, with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

TRAINING YOUNG INDIANS.

Results of the Outing System at the Carlisle School.

The twenty-fourth annual report of Colonel R. H. Pratt, superintendent of the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., is devoted largely to the results of the outing system of the school in the civilization of Indian youth. Last year 519 boys and 429 girls had outing privileges for some portion of the year. While the boys worked largely for farmers, some were placed in mechanical situations, working side by side with the regular employees in various establishments. Others were employed at seashore and other summer resorts in such positions as are often filled by college students during vacation.

The united earnings of those who had outing privileges the past year were $31,393. The workers save half their earnings, and the accumulated savings in two years are $35,004. During the year 101 graduates of Carlisle were employed in the Indian school service of the department of the interior, their combined salaries being $46,300. In this connection Colonel Platt remarks that he has "never urged upon the department wholesale employment of our graduates, but rather have uniformly urged them to go out into the world and struggle for the good things of life in competition with our other peoples, and so begin tribal distintegration and their unification with our masses."

The total enrollment at the school during twenty-four years has been 4,903. Last year's enrollment was 1,208, from seventy-seven tribes, and forty-six were graduated.

READ THIS.

Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Providentially I was led to procure a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Specific for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as A TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the 8 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. T. E. Kent, Evangelist.

Cotton Still King in Texas.

"Cotton is still king in Texas," said Mr. J. H. Downes, a leading business man of Crockett, Tex., to a Washington Post reporter.

"Since I left home I see our people are talking of a 4,000,000 bale crop, and this estimate is not too big if the boll weevil or some other unlooked for misfortune doesn't come along to spoil things. If the 4,000,000 yield does materialize it ought at $50 a bale, which is not too high an estimate, be worth to Texas farmers $200,000,000. Here is a tidy sum of money, a good bit more than all the gold that is dug out of every mine in the Union with Alaska thrown in. Cotton will still be king in Texas at least for many a year."

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

Bourke Cockran Declares It Will Come Soon.

"Ireland is soon to have home rule."

That was the positive declaration of W. Bourke Cockran, who has just returned from Ireland and is today more conversant with affairs in the Emerald Isle than any other man in America, says the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger. Mr. Cockran is most optimistic regarding the future of Ireland.

"Ireland is saved to the Irish," said Mr. Cockran, "and an era of prosperity is about to set in, following the passage of the Irish land bill by parliament, that will put the 'old sod' where it has belonged for years."

Mr. Cockran but recently returned from a long stay in England and Ireland. The former congressman was wavering between his allegiance to the United States and love for Ireland when King Edward himself had introduced in the house of commons the very bill which Mr. Cockran believes will prove to be the salvation of the country. It is hinted by those who know that perhaps the strong influence of Mr. Cockran himself on those high in English counsels might have prompted the king to take the epoch making step he did.

Speaking enthusiastically, while denying modestly his own share in the affair, Mr. Cockran said:

"The passage of the Irish land act insures the settlement of the Irish question, which has disturbed millions of people for scores of years. It removes all reason for refusing to let the native people settle the conditions of their own government—and this means that Ireland will forge rapidly to the front as a nation even as her people have come forward through their own inherent qualities."

DYSENTERY CURED WITHOUT THE AID OF A DOCTOR.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists. 2

Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by all druggists. 1

A RECEPTION GARDEN.

Novelty For Newport Planned by Mrs. W. R. Travers.

Something new in the way of entertaining is what Newport hostesses are still striving for, and, although it had been thought that the inventive genius of almost everybody had some time since run the very limit of possibilities, Mrs. William R. Travers appears to have made a discovery that is really novel and interesting, says the New York Herald. Mrs. Travers contemplates adding to the list of Newport's private attractions a Japanese garden, where she can give entertainments, either small or elaborate, within an environment that shall be at least somewhat suggestive of the sunny orient.

Definite plans have not yet been formulated, but Mrs. Travers owns a fine stretch of land which lies between the Ocean drive and the south shore, where the Japanese garden may be located.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is very reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure was removed that the building itself is bound to come down. This same principle can be applied to disease. Take remove the cause of sickness, and the illness leaves of itself. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, sickheadache and biliousness have their foundation in stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure for this that all druggists sell for 25c per box, it is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They get right at the beginning of these diseaes and make the cure by taking away the cause of it. We will send a small box free by mail, or a large box on receipt of 25c. Address Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Lee P. Allcott

VANDERBILT SUES EDITOR.

Alleges That He Was Libeled by St. Petersburg Paper.

Cornelius Vanderbilt has instructed a prominent law firm to bring suit for libel against the Novosti (newspaper), whose editor Vanderbilt wants severely punished, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Philadelphia North American. This is the editor's crime:

"When Cornelius and his friends visited St. Petersburg in their yacht," wrote the newspaper, "the ladies were hard up for jewelry. They had not dared bring their tiaras and other great jewels to so barbaric a country as Russia. Yet the ladies did not care to appear without jewelry at a dinner party given on the yacht to several members of the St. Petersburg aristocracy. So they made the rounds of the great jewelers of the capital, selected a quantity of bracelets, earrings, necklaces and headdresses and had them sent to the yacht on approval. These borrowed plumes they wore at the dinner and sent them back next day with their regrets."

Vanderbilt denies the story and wants the Novosti man punished for libeling his friends.

NOT OVER-WISE.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by all druggists. 1

Charles W. Brown, city engineer, left Saturday for Lafayette, Ind., and after a brief visit will leave for Crookston, Minn., where his marriage to Miss Nellie Hill, of this city, will occur Sept. 3, at the home of Miss Hill's sister, Mrs. J. W. Wheeler.

Tuesday, Sept. 1, THE ALTON will run a special train to Peoria for the accommodation of Hospitaler Commandery, Knights Templars, and their friends. Train will leave Jacksonville 7 a. m., connecting at San Joe with the Elwood Commandery from Springfield and reaching Peoria 9:15 a. m.; returning leave Peoria 10:30 p. m. and arrive Jacksonville about midnight. Round trip only $2.40.

HAVE EASY WORK

Locals Defeat Sorento by Score of 20 to 1.

There was a large attendance at the West Side park Sunday to see Sorento play ball with the home team and there was considerable speculation on the part of those who watch the standing of teams as to the probable strength of the visitors. The team had not been heard of here before, yet the contemplated games with Keokuk and Quincy gave some ground to argue that they must be a fast bunch. The locals from past experience had more reason to fear the ball players from the small country town than the city teams and fully expected they would have to play ball to overcome the odds. Their fears were unfounded, however, and the people who attended the game saw Jacksonville have a little game of her own, while Sorento kept guessing what the locals would do next.

The game opened with Norris in the pitcher's box, but he retired at the end of the first inning and Abernathy did the twirling the remaining seven innings, when the game was called in order to enable the Sorento team to catch the train home. Sorento was first at bat and from the lead the first two men made it look as though the visitors were going to do some tall work with the willow, for Manley, the first man up, smashed the ball for a circuit of three bags, and next came Isherwood, who hit for two bases, bringing Manley in for the first score, but that was the only man that the visitors got to the home plate. Isherwood was caught at third on Bean's attempted sacrifice hit. Mitchell flew out to Shanahan, Patton walked and Sisk made the third out by a grounder to Franz, who threw him out at first. In the second half Hanchen went out on a fly to Patton, Livingston walked, Cadigan had no trouble in placing one of his long three-baggers for a starter, bringing in Livingston. Abernathy put a grounder into Isherwood's hands which he fumbled, letting him to first and bringing in Cadigan. Magill got hit and walked down, advancing Abernathy one point. Franz went to first on Molloy's error, but Magill was caught at second and Hagel went out on a foul fly, making the score 2 to 1.

In the second inning Abernathy went into the box. He had confidence, plus his eye and his arm with him, and he put some old-time steam into his twirling and in consequence shut out the visitors in the next seven innings, only two men getting as far as third base. In the last half of the second inning the game was all over, for the locals brought in five runs on a credit of three hits and the loose playing by the visitors through this half showed plainly that the day was against them, or they couldn't keep up the pace. Molloy hit three men and gave one a base on balls and the opportunities which they passed up in this inning showed they were not in the game.

Hackett led off and was hit by the first ball up. Shanahan attempted to sacrifice and got to first on Molloy's error. Hanchen flew out to Trouba, Livingston laid on for three bases and Hackett and Shanahan came over the home plate. Cadigan was hit, Abernathy was hit and Cadigan stole second. Magill poked a nice single through shortstop, who got it in time to catch Livingston at home plate. Cadigan went on to third. Franz walked and Cadigan scored, forced around by Franz' base on balls. Hagel dropped a safe hit near center field and Abernathy scored. Hackett set a grounder into second, who held it for Franz' out, and the score stood 7 to 1.

The rest of the game is hardly worth mentioning. Jacksonville played ball and Sorento played something else. Hanchen hit for two bases in the third and scored in the fifth and sixth innings. Livingston struck out in the third, but scored the next three times at bat, making a home run in the sixth. Cadigan scored twice more. Magill scored in the seventh. Franz set off three bases in the sixth and scored. Hagel got two more hits, pushing around two bases in the fourth and a safety in the sixth, also scoring that inning; Hackett got to bat twice in the sixth inning and smashed her over into center both times for two and three bases, scoring once. Shanahan got a three-bagger in the sixth and a safety in the fifth, and they would have been smashing yet if it had not been time to go to the train. The game was called at the end of the first half of the eighth inning. Sorento was clearly outclassed at every point in the game. They needed practice, yet in the third and fourth innings they shut out the locals and did play some good ball, yet at critical moments they would go to pieces and every error made—and there were several—counted heavily against them. The score:

NEW COMMISSION FIRM.

The Stephenson Commission company, of Birmingham, Ala., buyers and shippers of flour, grain, hay and feed stuffs, have decided to open an office in this city and Messrs. L. Tonts, secretary of the company, and Ben A. Neal, of Birmingham, arrived in the city Saturday and after a brief survey of the surrounding country determined upon this city as a place of location. Mr. Neal will have charge of the local office of the company and definite quarters will be secured within a day or two.

The mistaken kindness of the friend who presumed to report in Sunday's Journal as to Miss Mary E. Dickson's business in Jacksonville at this time, was entirely without Miss Dickson's knowledge. It would have spared her embarrassment had the whole truth been stated in the simple fact that Miss Dickson thinks of shating studio room with one of the music teachers here, with a view to permanent residence and teaching in Jacksonville.

Business is business. Canada's imports from the United States last year amounted to $123,472,416, and its exports to this country were $54,-600,449. Since 1897 Canada has allowed Great Britain and its colonies a preferential tariff. This concession, since July 1, 1900, has been 33 1-3 per cent, yet our trade with Canada grows steadily and is far in advance of that between Canada and Great Britain. Doctrinaires can not afford to sit idle waiting for goods from the other side of the Atlantic. Canada is importing more than twice as many goods from the United States as it receives from Great Britain, with a tariff reduction of one-third on British merchandise. Practically speaking, this preferential arrangement is a failure. Much was expected of it, but it has not worked as Canadian politicians calculated.

THE GRAND ARMY AND ITS CHIEF.

The Grand Army of the Republic begins its new year with a membership of 255,100 and with Gen. John C. Black, of Illinois, as commander-in-chief.

The Inter Ocean says General Black was the logical candidate for the commander-in-chief this year and his election by acclamation is very gratifying to his friends in this state. His record in the army is one to attract all ranks of soldiers. He enlisted as a private in Lew Wallace's Eleventh Indiana Zouaves the day after Fort Sumpter was fired on in April, 1861.

At the end of the three months' service he raised a company for the Thirty-seventh Illinois, Col. Julius White's Fremont Rifles, served as captain, major, lieutenant colonel, and colonel, and came out of the service with the rank of brevet brigadier general.

The Thirty-seventh was a fighting regiment, and Black was a fighting colonel. He had an arm shattered at Pea Ridge, but went into the next battle, at Prairie Grove, Ark., with his arm in a sling to receive a wound in the other arm. He served through the war from beginning to end, and has always stood well among the fighting soldiers of the west.

He went to San Francisco with this record in his favor and with the prestige of having served as commander of the Loyal Legion in Illinois department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

IMPORTS INCREASING.

During the fiscal year just closed the manufacturers of the United States imported nearly $500,000,000 worth of materials for use in manufacturing. Materials for use in manufacturing thus formed nearly one-half of the total imports of the United States last year. In a table just completed the department of commerce and labor shows, through its bureau of statistics, that the total value of manufacturers' materials imported in the fiscal year was $489,-471,667, and that this formed 47.73 per cent of the total imports. In the preceding year the total was $415,000,000 and formed 46.14 per cent of the whole. In 1898 the total was $247,000,000 and it formed 42.07 per cent of the whole.

Going back to earlier dates, it may be said that the manufacturers' materials imported aggregated in value, in 1866, $98,000,000; in 1830, $9,000,-000; in 1850, $48,000,000; in 1870, $120,000,000; in 1880, $233,000,000; in 1890, $233,000,000; in 1900, $380,000,-000. In 1830, manufacturers' materials formed only 15 per cent of the total imports, while now they constitute nearly 48 per cent.

The increase in the importation of manufacturers' materials in the last year was very large. In raw materals, in which the increase was practically $50,000,000, the principal increase was in raw silk, India rubber, wool, chemicals, fibers, tin and copper. In partially manufactured materials iron and steel were the principal factors of increase, the total importations of iron and steel having been the largest in many years and a very large proportion having been material for use in manufacturing.

Automobile Output In 1903.

In America alone 30,000 automobiles will be placed on the market during the present year, which will only supply half the demand.

CUPID AND STRIKES.

Marriage Recommended as Panacea For Labor Troubles.

Cupid's right bower, Mayor Knotts of Hammond, Ind., has again championed the cause of matrimony. Bachelors, says the mayor, are a detriment to a community, while married men are valuable assets. In an appeal just issued he asked the merchants and manufacturers of the city to employ married men only. Mayor Knotts declares that single men are the chief fomenters of labor troubles; that they are reckless, and as a rule do a town more harm than good.

Mayor Knotts a year ago offered to marry free all couples residing in Hammond and to give them moral and other support in establishing their homes.

In his letter Mayor Knotts argued that during the years of labor trouble in Hammond it had been notorious that the single men were the first to start trouble and to talk strike. Married men, he declared, are more patient and long suffering and less likely to go out on unjustified strikes.

The mayor states that single men do not make as good citizens. He declares they are reckless, inclined to wastefulness and spending; that they come into a town when a new enterprise is started, and usually, after a short and reckless career, depart for some other town, having done the town no good and leaving only unpaid bills and friends around the saloons.

The mayor closes his letter with an appeal to the manufacturers and merchants to call a meeting and take steps looking to the employment of married men only in their factories and stores.

This, he declares, will end the labor troubles of the town and raise the standard of citizenship, give stability of purpose to the town itself and do a lasting good. Married men, he concludes, become permanent citizens, working for the good of the community. He argues that the manufacturers, having received great benefits from the town of Hammond, should reciprocate by employing the married men and giving them preference at all times.

NEW CAR WHEEL.

Invention of South Dakota Man Said to Be Valuable.

C. W. Hawkins, a former resident of Great Falls, Mont., but who is now at work on the Sioux Falls (S. D.) division of the Great Northern railroad, with headquarters at Garretson, Minnehaha county, has been awarded a patent on an invention which, it is said, promises to make him a millionaire, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The product of his genius is termed a ball bearing antifriction car wheel. Its practicability is soon to be tested by several eastern railroads as well as the Great Northern. The car wheel does not differ materially in appearance from an ordinary wheel and is so constructed that it may be made independent of the journal and run on the ball bearing attachment if occasion demands.

In the event of a hot journal, often the cause of disastrous wrecks, by the application of a wedge the journal may be made to remain stationary, and the wheel will run on the ball bearings, which are constructed of highly hardened steel and are oiled automatically. This arrangement also permits the outside wheel to run faster in traversing a curve than the inside wheel without slipping, thus reducing the possibility of friction to the minimum and doing away with the wear, which makes it imperative that the steel on sharp curves must be replaced at frequent intervals to avoid derailments and resulting disasters to rolling stock and possible loss of life.

It is also claimed for the new wheel that it will reduce the draft of trains fully 25 per cent and that it can be manufactured and maintained at a small added cost over the price of the wheels at present in use.

New Potato Pest.

Samuel Price, a Ravenna (O.) farmer, has discovered a new and formidable potato pest, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. While inspecting a field of growing tubers he noticed large sections of dead and dying plants, due to the presence of a mosquito headed, dark bodied, quarter inch bug, which, armed with a needlelike proboscis, bores into the growing stock, from which it extracts the life juices, with fatal results. The newcomer is very lively, flies like a carrier pigeon, and all ordinary methods of warfare are futile against it.

Abou T. Lipton.

Abou T. Lipton (may his tribe increase!)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace
And saw an angel with a fountain pen
Scribbling upon a sheet of foolscap. Then,
Regaining his composure, Tom sat up
And asked the angelic one to have a cup
Of his best tea. The angel shook his head.
"I'm on the water wagon now," he said.
Abou T. Lipton waved his hand. "I see;
But, by the way, what writest thou?" said he.
The heavenly vision answered, "Well, I write
Here on this little sheet, in black and white,
The man whose boat will get the needed place,
The winner in the coming yachting race."
The gallant Lipton brightened up. "Pray tell,"
He queried, "does the name begin with L?"
"I'm sorry," said his guest. "It is a shame,
But as things stand, I cannot write your name."
T. Lipton made reply, "Would I were it,
But put me down as one who never quit!"
The angel wrote and vanished. The next night
He called on Tom again, but not to write.
Said he, "I have on this large, handsome chart
(A fine example of the engraver's art)
The names of some true sportsmen—just the best."
And, lo, T. Lipton's name led all the rest!

CONTRIBUTED.

Hawk's Nest, Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1903. Editor Journal: The hawk has been viewing the beauties of our beautiful little city, appropriately called "The Athens of the West. The first thing noticed was that your reporter, in a late issue of your interesting Daily Journal, recorded his observations of the noted court house school of summer philosophy, which was by the way so named by the venerable preacher, Mr. Barnes, a graduate of Yale and an early associate of New England's noted senator and the classic orator, Sumner, both of whom have long since been called to the beyond. The report as to numbers states that the meeting was small, but duscussed the very interesting subject of street fairs, and allow me to say that from Primus' remarks to the end it was described as well as being clasical and reasonable as well as instructive not only to the readers of the Journal, but to the very close observers of the school. Be sure, Mr. Reporter, to visit the meetings and minutely report the same in your very interesting manner often. Our city looks beautiful now in its closing summer garb and we cordially invite all to visit it and its institutions of learning and charity before the beautiful trees and flowers succumb to winter's cold and chilly frost.

In looking over the beautiful residences one, even if they are not blessed with the eye of a hawk, will readily observe that quite an amount of work as well as good judgment has been used to accomplish such a splendid result. Why, Mr. Editor, they have so much of the home beautifying that the Christians of the United States have moved their old people's home up here and are in fair way on Grove street to add not only beauty but Christian charity to our fair Athens. Even one of our old fogy doctors has taken or caught the noble spirit and commenced improving his residence and even gone so far as to call it a home and appoint a president, two vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and a man of all work to run it in an up-to-date manner as near as possible. Now, Mr. Editor, do all the good you can and especially to our beloved city. Your friend.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

It seems easy for Pauline G. to beat 2:08.

Dan R., 2:04¾, is just as hard to beat as ever.

Trilby Direct, 2:08½, is the seventh 2:10 performer by Direct, 2:05½.

Little Squaw, 2:05¾, keeps getting nearer the mare's pacing record.

The first time Alliewood, 2:12¼, wins a heat he will probably be a 2:10 trotter.

Wainscot, 2:10¼, is a great four-year-old. Robert Mc, 2:10¾, is a pretty fair one.

Senator Mills, 2:12¼, now heads the Electrite family. He looks like a coming two tenner.

The new harness track at Racine, Wis., is well started and will be in working order by fall.

Lady Thisbe, 2:11¼, is lame behind, but Geers is working her along and thinks she will come out of it.

Nella J., 2:14¼, the winner of last year's Kentucky Futurity, has been transferred to the hands of Jack Curry.

Dan Patch, 1:59½, will start against the half mile track record during the meeting at Lima, O., Sept. 7-10. The Lima card embraces twelve harness races for purses from $400 to $500.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Paul Arthur will be Mrs. Langtry's leading man next season during her American tour, which opens in the early autumn.

Cecilia Loftus will be E. H. Sothern's leading woman again next season, supporting the romantic actor in "The Proud Prince" and "As You Like It."

Tommaso Salvini will sail for America next spring to tour this country under the management of Liebler & Co., presenting some of his greatest plays.

Lillie Langtry, who under the name of Mr. Jersey owns a fine racing stable, has given a prize of $250, which she recently won, to the London fresh air fund.

Camille d'Arville recently returned to the stage, appearing in San Francisco in "The Highwayman." She was in excellent voice and received a hearty welcome.

Charles Frohman has acquired the American rights to "The Sorceress," written for Sarah Bernhardt, which will be produced in Paris, with Mme. Bernhardt in the principal role.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Sleeves grow in width and lengthen perceptibly.

Girdles are much worn. The broad, crushed ones are smartest.

Shirt waists of white madras are decorated with spider-like designs in black.

Plaited sleeves, cape effects, cords, balls, pendants, fringes, buttons and embroidered bands are features of the new styles in separate coats.

A veiling novelty is on the order of thin crepe de chine furnished with a border in fancy cat stitch forming diamonds. This veiling comes in all colors.

Lilacs are among the fashionable flowers for hat decorations. White, blue and purple blossoms are combined in large wreaths and placed around the brim of straw hats.

The chief characteristic of the new dress fabrics is the soft blending of shades. Green and blue are the principal colors, but in nearly all combinations black has an important part.

FARMERS LIKE NEW GAME LAW

Game Warden Rearden Finds Hunter's License Feature of Measure Meets With Approval—Yates Sentiment is Growing.

H. S. Rearden, one of the ten game wardens under the new game law, whose district contains eighteen counties, returned from a week's trip over the south end of his territory. In speaking of his trip Mr. Rearden said:

The unqualified approval the people are giving the new game law is extremely gratifying to the commissioners and all who had anything to do with its passage, and especially to the sportsmen of the state who are personally interested in game protection. The hunters' license feature, which met with such strong opposition in the legislature and which certain representatives said would seriously injure them with their farmer friends, is, if anything, the most popular section in the law and the farmers and their boys are taking out more licenses than any other class. In all my rounds of ten counties just visited I did not hear one single "kick" by farmers.

TWELVE THOUSAND ISSUED.

During the month of July, which was the first month of the new law, and also the closed season, twelve thousand resident hunters' licenses were issued in the state, and August will show fully that number again. The first two weeks of August the Cook county clerk alone issued three thousand. Yesterday at Belleville I examined the clerk's records and eight hundred resident and thirty-two non-resident licenses have been issued by that one office and there are a dozen other clerks in St. Clair county yet to hear from.

I believe the game protection fund, with the resident and non-resident license, half of all fines for violation of the law and confiscated game, will be fully up to our expectations and sufficient to meet all the requirements of the game department and enable us to make it worth while for good clean men to take the deputy warden positions and thereby make the law effective.

ORGANIZATION IS PERFECTED.

Our organization of the state for game protection work is now perfected and it is the best in the United States. State Game Commissioner Lovejoy is the head and he has ten game wardens immediately under him. Each of these game wardens has a certain number of counties under his supervision and each county has a deputy game warden reporting to and getting his instructions from the game warden over his district. Under this new law the remuneration for the deputy or county warden will pay good, active men nicely for six to nine months of the year.

This fund, as you know, does not come out of an appropriation, nor does it tax all the people. Only those who hunt and get the benefit of game protection are required to pay the small sum of one dollar and ten cents a year and it is the commissioner's intention to circulate every cent of it back to the people of this state and not keep one dollar in the treasury at the end of the year.

MANY QUAILS AND SQUIRRELS.

I found a great many quails and squirrels in Randolph, Monroe and St. Clair counties. The wheat crop in these counties was a failure and the corn is poor, probably less than half a crop. In Shelby, Macoupin and Macon counties there are enough prairie chickens for "seed," and I have good men watching them. If all goes well with them for four years there will be enough for fair sport and home consumption in these counties.

Mr. Rearden says that throughout his district, especially in the southern counties, Governor Yates grows stronger every day and southern Illinois looks solid for him. While the office of game warden is not a political position he naturally takes notice of the general conditions in his district, which includes Sangamon, Christian, Macon, Piatt, Douglass, Edgar, Clark, Coles, Cumberland, Shelby, Montgomery, Macoupin, Madison, Bond, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph and Moultrie counties.

SCORES GULLIBLE PUBLIC.

New Jersey Chancellor Says Stocks Are Inflated For Fools.

"You know and I and everybody ought to know that stock is inflated to unload it on the public. I consider it a fraud, and the people who buy are fools. The men who inflate stocks take advantage of the old adage, 'All fools are not yet dead,'" said Vice Chancellor Pitney during the argument in the application of Edwin A. McAlpin and others for a receiver for the Universal Tobacco company at Newark, N. J.

Attorney General McCarter of counsel for the defendant corporation claimed that the allegation of insolvency made by the complainants was false. He said that the fact that the corporation wanted more capital was proof of solvency. He asked, "Where are those men who have made millions out of the scheme by selling out?"

Vice Chancellor Pitney, interrupting, said: "I do not quite agree with counsel that they made millions. I assume that they made about $500,000, less expenses. What they got beyond that was by cheating somebody."

NEW WIRELESS SYSTEM.

Invention In Telegraphy by a Chicago Electrician.

A Chicago electrician named G. S. Piggott declares that he has invented a new system of wireless telegraphy which is simpler than those now in use. "The new system," says the Milwaukee Sentinel, "should it prove commercially practicable, has, it is claimed, many advantages over the style used by Marconi in his invention. First, there is no pole at either receiving or sending station, and although in recent tests the receiver was exposed on the deck of the vessel the transmitter was in the room of a house, and, according to the inventor, the receiver would have responded to every message even if it were carried in a pocket. An intensifier makes the poles unnecessary. To prevent the interference of foreign currents each instrument is to respond only to a current of a certain rapidity of alternation. This, says the inventor, may be done so accurately that no interference of any kind is possible, no matter through what medium the vibrations of the current must pass in their journey from one instrument to another. A special code of telegraphy is used by Mr. Piggott, called the double dot code, in which dots are used instead of the dots and dashes of the Morse system."

The invention is described thus:

"Instead of employing a tapper and a sounder on my receiver I use a 'tapper sounder,' one instrument which does the work of two and takes up less space. I also employ an intensifier of my own construction, which makes the station poles unnecessary. This system, which I call 'space telegraphy,' is timed to a certain rapidity of alternation, and if outside vibrations of different 'time' intervene they will not affect the workings of my instrument. The current has approximately 26,000 alternations per second, and all other vibrations of lesser or greater alternating rapidity will not be recorded on my receiver. My transmitter is what is commonly called an alternating current, static, electric generator, mechanically operated. This is a mechanical contrivance which gets its current from the ether, and therefore I do not use a spark coil."

Cannon on the Currency.

Congressman Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was in Omaha the other day on his way farther west to look after some private business. "It is too early to make any predictions as to what may be done by congress in the way of currency legislation," said Mr. Cannon. "And then we don't know just what is happening or what is needed. It is true that a lot of eastern fellows think they are in a bad way and need currency legislation to help them out. But I notice that stocks are not down to a good investment basis even now. I see they have got everything 'way up too high, and things are now just getting back to normal. This question will right itself by the upbuilding of a healthful public sentiment."

PEAS SPROUTED IN STOMACH.

Creston, Iowa, Aug. 23.—A death from a most peculiar cause occurred here to day. The 7-year-old daughter of John Ponte, a Burlington conductor, was taken sick ten days ago with what physician pronounced dysentry. In spite of their best efforts the little one grew worse until her death to day.

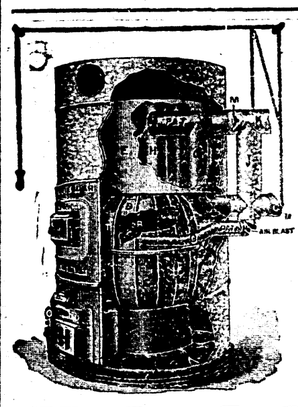

An autopsy revealed the fact that the child had swallowed peas whole, that they had sprouted and were growing in her stomach. The case is said to be one of the most peculiar on record.

NEW CURE FOR LOCKJAW.

Chicago University Professor Successfully Treats a Violent Case.

A cure for lockjaw has been discovered and successfully tested in Chicago by Dr. S. A. Mathews of the University of Chicago. George Newman was the patient, and the cure was effected while he was in the midst of the most violent tetanus spasms.

The Newman boy caught his toe in the chain of a bicycle, and tetanus set in. Nine of the best physicians in Chicago treated the lad, but he steadily got worse. Dr. Mathews was then called.

For a month Dr. Mathews, formerly a student under Professor Loeb, has been working in the physiological laboratory of the university, where he is an instructor in pharmacology. He had already succeeded on animals and was waiting for a chance to try it on a human.

An entirely venous injection of salts, chloride and potassium was made in the lower arm. Little improvement was seen, and the boy's pulse was 144. Other injections were given Wednesday and Saturday nights. The pulse went down, and he began to improve. He is now almost well, and the scientific department of the university is rejoicing over the successful test.

It is thought that the cure will be effective in the case of snake bites and other blood poisonings.

INJURED BY HORSE

J. H. Chamberlain had Head Cut While Handling Colt.

J. H. Chamberlain, a well known resident of the county, residing three miles northeast of the city, met with a very severe accident Monday while handling a young colt. The colt had never been haltered and Mr. Chamberlain was assisting the hired man who had one end of a rope around the colt's neck and the other end tied to a post. Mr. Chamberlain tried to slip the head stall over the animal's head when he was caught between the post and his head badly cut and bruised. He was in an unconscious condition for an hour and Dr. J. W. Hairgrove was at once sent for. He made a careful examination and dressed Mr. Chamberlain's injuries but their extent could not then be determined. Dr. Hairgrove called again during the evening and found his patient suffering a great deal of pain. The injury is a most unfortunate one and the friends of Mr. Chamberlain, who are legion, will hope to hear encouraging news regarding his condition.

CORN CARNIVAL ON

FINE WEATHER FOR THE OPENING DAY.

Store Decorations are Profuse—Some of the Attractions—Program for To Day.

The street fair and corn carnival opened in all its glory Monday. It was a kind of a preparation day, but before nightfall every tent pole had been set and every peg driven. The merchants were actively engaged along with the showman and many handsome and attractive windows and store fronts are to be seen. Some have spent unusual care in getting up their decorations and many unique designs that advertise the trade are the result. A further notice of these decorations will be made later.

The shows are all located in or around the park, with the exception of the miniature steam railway, which runs from the corner of the square west on State street as far as Allen A. This latter attraction was especially admired by the children during the day and over 2,000 passengers were carried between 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 10:30 in the evening, and it wasn't excursion day either. On the west side of the park will be found the merry-go-round, electric palace and electric theatre; on the north side the "Old Plantation," Laughing parlor, and the "Shartest House on Earth"; on the east side "What Is It?" the Ferris wheel, the Zoo and Silver Gus, the tatooer.

Platforms for the free entertainments have been erected on the southeast corner of the square and on the northwest corner. The aerial artists give their splendid exhibition in the southeast section of Central park and here also will be found the Mitroscope and Knock My Babies Down show. The shows all seem to have a wholesome tone and to be as advertised.

Mr. Bucklin, of the Carnival company, is here and the management is under his personal supervision.

The Markee band of Quincy discoursed excellent music during the day and will be the musical entertainers during the week.

The D. O. K. K. parade this evening promises to be one of the big features of the week and the order has the reputation of not doing things by halves. Three hundred tin horns, plenty of red fire and an abundance of Roman candles will make a dazzling display and din of noise that will be well worth witnessing. The line of march will be as follows: Start from K. of P. hall, east around square, down East State street, to Centenary church, countermarch to square and west on West State street to Church street, countermarch to square, around to K. of P. hall and disband.

The day's program will also have interesting features and among the number will be the horse show program as follows:

At 9:30 a. m.—Best pair mare or horse mules, 3 to 7 years old. First prize, $10· second, $5.

Best draft team of mares or horses—First prize, $10· second, $5.

The free attractions will be numerous and both afternoon and evening their will be something in this line to interest and amuse. The events and the times at which they will occur are as follows:

AFTERNOON.

2:00—The Three Gentrys, aerial act.
2:30—Madam Cole, flying rings.
3:00—Acrobatic act, famous Florence family.
3:30—High diving dog.

The above performances are all free and will be given on the streets. In addition to above program of free performances, the following meritorous pay attractions will be on the ground: Wild animal arena, Beautiful India, "Thelma," the $5,000 fire dance and electric sensation, electric theatre with moving pictures, miniature railway, palace of illustions, Old Plantation and minstrels, the cyrstal plex and glass blowers, Ferris wheel and English Carousal.

QUALIFY FOR CONTEST

Monday was Final Day in the Qualifying Round for the Kirby-Capps Cup.

Monday was the final day in the 36 hole qualifying round for the Kirby-Capps cup. The conditions were that the eight players making the highest scores were entitled to enter the contest. The successful players were chosen from an entry list of 15 and are as follows:

	Score.
Osborne	179
Sanders	185
Scurlock	186
Ledferd	188
Ayers	190
Luttrell	190
Greenleaf	193
Hubbell	200

In the drawing for pairs the result was as follows: Ledferd and Greenleaf; Scurlock and Osborne; Sanders and Hubbel; Ayers and Luttrell. These pairs will play 18 holes match play during to day and Wednesday. On Thursday the semi-finals will be played and on Friday or Saturday the finals will be played. Professor Tollifson, who is here, will play the best ball of the three players making the highest score in this contest.

Professor Tollifson spent most of his time yesterday giving instruction in the technical points of the game and only played five holes, which he made in twenty-one strokes, which considering the condition of the grounds was a very good score. He expressed himself as very much pleased with the local links and is a most pleasant and affable gentleman. Most of his time for the week has already been engaged and those who desire the instruction at his command will do well to make arrangements at once.

The total scores in the qualifying round for the Kirby-Capps cup were rather disappointing, but the grounds have not had careful attention lately, which in a measure accounts for the poor showing.

GOLF EXPERT HERE.

A. C. Tollifson, the professional golfist of Lake Geneva, is spending the week in the city at the Country club and will coach the regular golf team and also give private instructions to any who so desire. Mr. Tollifson is an expert player and understands the ethics and science of the game thoroughly.

TO SELL VATICAN NAVY

New Pope to Do Away With Last of Papal Armament.

PIUS WILL NOT TOLERATE BIGOTRY

Denial of Burial Rites to Hungarian Count to Be Probed—His Holiness Adopts the Pet Dove of His Predecessor.

Pope Pius X. has asked Cardinal Vannutelli's nephew, formerly lieutenant in the Italian navy, to make an inventory of the remnant of the former papal marine, with a view to selling it, says the Rome correspondent of the Philadelphia North American. Among the ships are three old galleys and many dispatch boats. It will be remembered that Pope Leo several years ago auctioned off the Vatican arsenal, guns, swords, cannon and ammunition. The new pope has seemingly decided to do away with the last mementos of old time warlike conditions, as far as the Vatican is concerned.

The pope has ordered special reports on the following cases coming under the jurisdiction of the holy see:

At Odenburg, Hungary, the body of Count Zichy was buried with Protestant rites, while a Catholic priest refused to perform his duty because Zichy had contracted a civil marriage with his second wife, refusing to accept the blessing of the church.

Pope Pius wants it understood that he will not permit intolerance unless the provocation be of the most urgent character. He was grieved to learn that a member of the highest Hungarian aristocracy was buried without the pale of the church, and the priest responsible for this will be punished if found guilty.

Another case in which an investigation has been ordered is that of the village of Guttet, Wallis, Switzerland, where a whole congregation embraced Old Catholicism.

In this case the bishop of Sion is blamed. It is said that the bishop intended to replace the old village church by a new edifice, while the villagers refused to permit the change. The peasants proved obstinate, and, to bring them to terms, the bishop punished the village with the interdict forbidding the saying of mass.

The villagers thereupon applied baptism themselves and held prayer meetings under the presidency of their elders. Finally they engaged an Old Catholic priest to take charge of their church. This is the second Swiss congregation that embraced Old Catholicism this year.

His holiness has adopted Leo XIII.'s pet, a white dove, which the holy father used to feed at a certain hour every morning. The pope allows it in his room, where it perches on his writing desk, and, like Leo, he daily saves some bread crumbs for its food. This white dove was among the last visitors Pope Leo received. On the second morning preceding his death the winged pet knocked at his bedroom window with its beak, and when admitted flew upon the bed, walking over the pope's chest and looking into his eyes. With great difficulty Leo laid his hand on the dove's head, petted it gently and whispered a farewell.

The servants of the Vatican called the dove the "Holy Ghost," but Pope Pius, when he heard it, forbade the designation, which he called sacrilegious.

"Just to prove that the dove is nothing but an ordinary pigeon I will feed it hereafter," he said, "as the great Leo did."

Several Italian artists are at work painting the scene, "Leo on His Deathbed Visited by the White Dove."

TAG FOR ALL WOMEN.

Mrs. Cassidy's Suggestion In Cases of City Accidents.

Mrs. Kate Cassidy has set a good example to the mothers of New York, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The very first thing she taught her baby daughter was her own name and the name of the street she lived in. The result was that when the child, who is only two and a half years old, got lost she was able to tell the people who found her that she was "Gertrude Anastasia Cassidy of East Eightieth street." Thus she was promptly restored to her mother.

Not only is it important in a big city for children to be able to identify themselves, but every one should carry some sort of identification card, according to Mrs. Cassidy. Most tailors have a habit of sewing the customer's name and address in the inside of his coat. Women, however, seldom carry anything to identify them.

Whenever a woman is knocked senseless in a street accident—and hardly a week passes without some such occurrence—there invariably is difficulty in identifying the victim. Frequently errors in addresses bring needless shocks to the wrong families. A good rule for every city dweller is to carry a card or "tag" giving the name and address.

Chewing Gum For the Insane.

The contracts awarded by the Minnesota state board of control for supplies for the ensuing quarter include a considerable quantity of chewing gum to pacify the patients of the insane asylums and the state hospitals, says a St. Paul Dispatch.

The observation of the board is that chewing gum often has a excellent effect on the patients. It causes the inmates to concentrate their minds on various forms of work and soothes them during violent spells.

On being given gum some of the violent patients have been known to collect their wits and diligently pursue a task.

TWAIN A POOR PILOT.

So Says the Old Chum, Captain Simms.

Piloting an excursion boat on its three daily trips up and down the muddy Missouri from the river front of this town is Captain J. D. Simms, who used to stand watch with Mark Twain when the author of "On the Mississippi" was learning the things he afterward wrote into his river stories, says a Sioux City dispatch.

"Sam might have made a good pilot if he hadn't always been wantin' to write for the papers," acknowledged Captain Simms when questioned. "He knowed the old Miss'ipp, but he couldn't some way be practical about his river business. He was always seein' the things that would make 'good stories.' One time Captain Leathers came up to the pilot house with a paper in his hand. We was just gettin' out of St. Louis fer a down river trip. The paper had a black mark around a piece, and he held it up to Sam, who was at the wheel.

"'Sam,' says the captain, 'you'll make a riverman some day if you'll just get over this nonsense of writin' fer the papers. Why don't ye quit?'

"Sam took a turn on the wheel an' eyed the captain half a minute out of his sharp eyes an' then says:

"'Yes, captain, an' don't ye s'pose I might make a pretty good writer some day if I'd get over this tryin' to be a riverman?'

"But he got to be a pretty good riverman anyhow, an' a better writer," went on the grizzled veteran, as he signaled the engineer to whistle to open the combination bridge draw. "I'd like to read a story he'd write about pilotin' nowadays, with bars an' bridges everywhere. The rivers ain't what they used to be.

"There aren't many of the old time rivermen left in this country. The Yukon has drawed the best of 'em away. That's the only place in America where there's any real steamboatin' nowadays. The season is a scant four months. I made three round trips a season from St. Michael's to Dawson, 1,920 miles, while I was there. You can run night an' day about the same, for it never gets dark in summer. Plenty of water, not too much current an' few stops. Oh, it's real steamboatin'."

HERRAN BLAMES EUROPE.

Caused Colombian Senate's Rejection of Canal Treaty.

That European powers, working secretly with agents of the transcontinental railways, caused the defeat of the Panama canal treaty in the Colombian senate is the belief of Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires, says the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press.

Dr. Herran said that there was no doubt that the railways, believing that the opening of an isthmian waterway would materially affect their trade, had been exerting a secret influence against the convention in the senate, and that the evidence of their subtle work was indicated in the action of that body in rejecting the treaty despite the pleas of the Colombian administration in its favor.

Furthermore, Dr. Herran said, he laid the rejection as well at the doors of European diplomats, who, acting subterraneously under instructions from home, had opposed the treaty because their governments secretly were jealous of the power the United States would wield through ownership of the canal.

ASKED PAPA BY PHONE.

Long Distance Talk Secured Consent to Marriage.

Miss Ida Stepp, the twenty-two-year-old daughter of Philip Stepp of Cleveland, came to Cincinnati, says a special dispatch from that city, on a visit three weeks ago and met Edward F. Lotz, a man of twenty-six, whom she had not seen since she was a child. They fell in love and finally decided on an early marriage. Lotz's mother approved.

Lotz, with Miss Stepp standing near by, called up Mr. Stepp on the long distance telephone and began by saying: "I'm going to surprise you. I want to marry Ida."

Mr. Stepp, who is acquainted with the Lotz family, readily consented. He said it was his daughter's affair, and he was willing to indorse her choice. The conversation, which cost Lotz $1.25, ended with the parental blessing.

The Buckwheat Crop.

About this season of the year
The expert statisticians
Do lively stunts in figuring
Upon the crop conditions.
They get reports from all the farms
To find the proper bearing,
And these with crops of other years
They're faithfully comparing.

They've brought their labors up to date,
And figures they are showing
Tell plainly what conditions are
Where standard crops are growing.
The average of each is shown
In figures tabulated,
And what the harvests will reveal
With care is estimated.

We notice that the average
Of corn is somewhat lower
And that the wheat this year has been
A rather backward grower.
The oats crop also lags behind,
And there is much regretting
Because our old time share of fruits
This year we'll not be getting.

As through the figures we proceed
And note the calculations
We learn that many crops are not
Up to our expectations.
But there is joy, and brightest smiles
Our faces are illuming
When to the buckwheat crop we come
And find that it is booming.

So while some but wish here and there
Are in gloomy mourning
With sure and steady progress
The buckwheat crop is moving.
We measure that in shocking,
For, through the other crops, duly drop
In points from ten to twenty,
We'll never care on fourth days
When buckwheat comes up steady.

THE LATEST IN TRUSTS

A Tailoring Combine With Schwab at Its Head.

IS SAID TO BE NOW FORMING.

Former Steel Company President Reported to Be Backing a Big Scheme to Establish Custom Made Clothing Stores All Over the Country.

The latest thing in trusts is to be known as the "United Tailors," says the New York World. Charles M. Schwab's millions are behind the scheme, which will be launched in New York soon.

The headquarters of the new concern will be at 8 Union square, in the building formerly occupied by the Union Square bank. Five branch stores have already been leased in various parts of Manhattan, and the projectors say that within thirty days their stores will be in operation in large cities all over the country.

The United Tailors will have the same relation to the custom tailoring trade that the United Cigar Stores do to the retail cigar and tobacco business.

The facts came out when P. A. Schwab, an uncle of the former steel trust president, and David J. Welch, for many years prominent in the woolen industry, began closing contracts on a mammoth scale. The branch stores already leased, says the World, are in Greeley square, at 58 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, 2216 Third avenue, 312 Eighth avenue and Eighty-fifth street and Columbus avenue. All of these will be open and ready for business simultaneously with the Union square headquarters on Aug. 22.

It is intended to increase the number of stores in Greater New York to 100 as fast as the property can be leased and equipped and to extend the business as quickly as possible to every city in the Union of 25,000 or more inhabitants. In two years' time the trust expects to have a chain of stores that will give employment to half a million men. As soon as possible it will own its own mills for the manufacture of cloth both here and abroad. At present it has contracted for the output of one mill in Massachusetts and is negotiating for more.

A great central school will be established in New York at which cutters, trimmers and salesmen will be taught and then sent out through the country to the branches where their services may be required. The educational idea emanated with former President Schwab, who says that it is just as necessary to educate your own men in the tailoring business as it is to teach steel workers their trade.

The formation of the new trust was proposed to Charles M. Schwab by his uncle and Mr. Welch over a year ago. At that time he decided that his work in connection with the steel trust was too heavy to permit him to assume a task which involved so much detail in its plans. When he decided to resign the presidency of the steel corporation he accepted the responsibility and hard work attached to the new combination. A majority of the details will be worked out by Mr. Schwab at his offices, 71 Broadway.

"We had not intended," said Mr. Welch, "to make public our plans for another week, but as they have leaked out we prefer that the public should have correct information to start with. Every male inhabitant of the United States has got to wear clothes, and, as Mr. Schwab puts it, 'there are 300,000 boys coming into long pants' every day. He has made the estimate after careful figuring. We want to train these boys to wear custom clothes instead of ready made suits. Once you put a tape on a young man, Mr. Schwab says, he will never go back to the poorly fitting store suits. If we can show these young men that for $15 or $20 we can build a perfect fitting custom made suit they will be ours for life.

"With the great number of stores that we shall establish we will be able to turn out our goods at a much lower cost than the individual tailor, and when we have perfected our system we shall be able to do the very best work for the least possible money."

Test to Wreck Sunken Vessels.

Some interesting experiments in deep sea salvage are, according to Shipping, about to be made in Australian waters. A deep sea diving machine will be used which has been successfully worked on Thursday island and other pearl fishing grounds at various depths as low as ninety-five fathoms. A test of the "grab," which is manipulated by the diver, has demonstrated that the apparatus will work at a depth of 200 fathoms. By way of showing how easy it would be to dislodge the huge iron girders of a vessel a couple of experienced admiralty men said a large ship could be broken to pieces with as much ease under water as a house could be blown to pieces on land. A beginning is to be made with the Elingamite, a vessel sunk deep in Australian waters.

A McKinley Memorial Lighthouse.

The proposal to establish a public park in ocean Honolulu as a memorial to the late President McKinley will probably be abandoned, says the Kansas City Star. Instead of this tribute to the chief executive during whose administration the people of Hawaii became citizens of the United States it is now proposed to erect a McKinley memorial lighthouse at the entrance of Honolulu harbor. This would be a prominent site from both land and sea, besides being of great practical utility. This project meets with much favor and is likely to be carried into effect.

COLLEGE BOYS IN KANSAS.

Princeton Student Tells of Their Experiences as Harvesters.

A few "hard luck" stories have drifted east from the harvest fields of Kansas, where college men have shown "the mettle of their pasture" in helping to gather one of the greatest wheat crops ever grown in the "Jayhawker State," says the New York World.

Quite a different story is that of W. J. Simpson, a Princeton student of New York, who in a letter written from St. Louis says the men who came from the east in response to the call for harvesters had no difficulty in obtaining employment, but that only a few of them were able to hold out under the fierce heat of the sun in the harvest fields and the long hours of work. For instance, out of thirty-two easterners who were sent to Ness county only ten stuck, but of these ten six were college men.

Mr. Simpson also bears cheerful and convincing testimony to the hearty welcome accorded the men by the farmers and the generous treatment given in many cases. One man who worked only two hours and was overcome by the heat was cared for by his employer four days and then returned to work, and when the wheat was cut the farmer paid him for the full time he had been with him, making no deduction for the four days. The men in many cases were compelled to sleep in the granary or in the barn, but this was because it was impossible to provide other accommodations. They also rose at 4 or 4:30 o'clock and, with time for breakfast, which always included pie, worked until 11:30. Then followed dinner and a two hour rest and work until 8 o'clock. Of men who failed to "make good" in the harvest field many were given lighter work at reasonably good wages.

THE "SINGING SANDS."

Massachusetts Professor Explains Musical Noises at Seashore.

At the field meeting of the Manchester (Mass.) Historical society and Essex institute Professor J. H. Sears of the Peabody Academy of Science spoke regarding the famous musical sands which have given the name of Singing beach to one part of Manchester's ocean front. He announced that he had actually discovered the cause of the peculiar sounds and had experimented so well that he could as an agent bring them about at will.

Professor Sears says the theory is, in brief, as follows: The sounds really are produced by minerals of a harder nature than the sand itself, which is composed of quartz and feldspar. Occasional grains of both quartz and feldspar contain inclusions of such minerals as tourmaline and zircon. Tourmaline possesses a hardness of nine, and that of zircon is from eight and a half to nine, while the hardness of quartz is seven and feldspar is still softer, with its hardness measured only at six.

The grains of quartz and feldspar which contain these inclusions upon being worn away leave the inclusions in a condition of points surrounding the grain of sand. These points, since they are so much harder than the mass of sand, give out a scratching sound when the sands are rubbed together, and these sounds are at Singing beach distinctly musical.

DESPAIR AND HOPE

A Tragic Life Story.

If there is anything in the theory that we get our heaven and hell here on earth, it could be said with perfect truth that a $1 medical prescription known as D. D. D., literally lifted this man out of hell. The awful miseries of a poisoned skin can be understood only by the afflicted. The nights of sleepless agony with hands tied to prevent tearing the flesh, the rundown general condition which results, and the black hopelessness of life can all be visibly traced in the first of these photos. As will be seen, this man is a man of powerful physique, but it will be seen from his face in the first picture that it is a grim struggle to live and keep up his courage.

In contrast, if the reader will fairly consider the picture after treatment with D. D. D., a new man is seen. Study this picture; contrast the two. Something has worked a wonder here. Reader, it was nothing on earth but D. D. D. and a kind Providence which directed the attention of this man to a public announcement about this medicament and its wonderful work in such cases. Providence went farther than this; it gave him some confidence in what he read. He made up his mind that he would try it. To this fact he owes all the peace, content and happiness so plainly seen in his face in the second picture. He states that after the third application of the remedy all his previous distress had disappeared entirely. The fevered condition resulting from continued irritation had subsided and he slept soundly nights.

The name of this getleman is Mr. Henry Walters, of St. Louis, Mo. We have the sworn affidavit of Mr. Walters that in just twenty-nine days after starting treatment with D. D. D. he discontinued further use of it, every visible trace of the disease having disappeared. Since that time not a trace of the trouble has shown itself on any part of his body. His hair has since grown long and the scrubby beard previously grown on his face to hide the sores, is kept cleanly shaved, and he is today a man of strikingly fine appearance, with the highest ambition and activities in life and every happiness possible to most men here on earth. Results of this kind that are proven to be directly due to a preparation of this sort certainly call for public appreciation. This prescription in sealed bottles, bearing authentic label of D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, sold at $1. The bottle is a liberal one and has proved sufficient to entirely cure many cases.

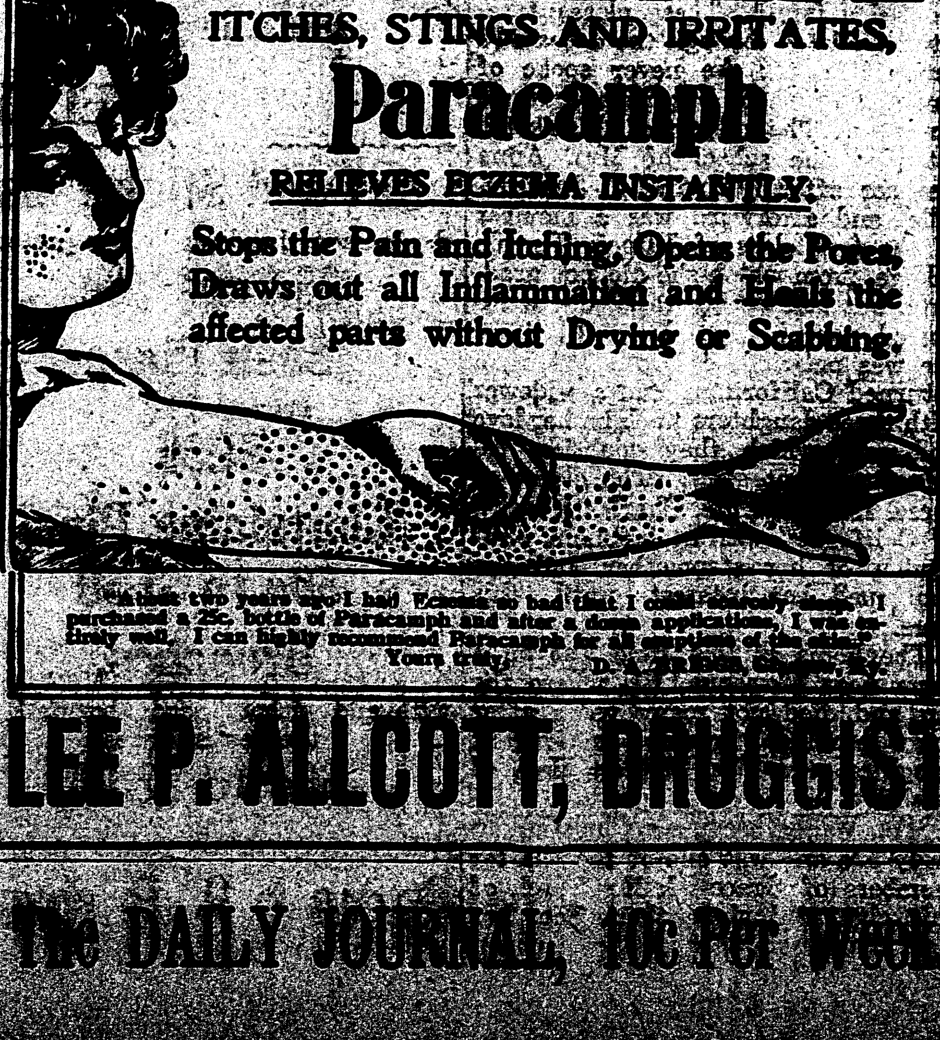

Eczema

is probably the worst and most stubborn of skin diseases, and it was for this that this prescription was studied out and perfected, but all skin diseases are caused by parasites or some form of germ life in the skin-structure. The prescription quickly and entirely annihilates all forms of parasitic life lodged anywhere in the skin. Many people imagine they have blood trouble when they break out with some form of skin affection, but not in one case in a hundred is this a fact, as the very healthiest blood is often found in the strongest men affected with breaks and eruptions of some kind in the skin. In all such cases the trouble is at the surface or near the surface, and it can be searched out and annihilated completely by this preparation.

The Above Is True.

We have received carefully prepared and fully attested documents and particulars regarding the case above mentioned of Mr. Henry Walters, of St. Louis, a victim of psoriasis, a form of eczema. We can say to all persons afflicted with any form of skin disease that the medical testimony submitted shows beyond a doubt that they can cure themselves by the use of this preparation. We say beyond a doubt. We mean this fully, providing the affection is really a skin disease, as it has been shown that each of the known germs that cause skin affection have been entirely routed out and conquered by the preparation.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, Aug. 24.—The volume of transactions in the stock market fell to about a quarter of a million shares and this small business was rapidly diminishing the latter part of the day. In the last hour there were long intervals when not a quotations was recorded. The tone was rather heavy throughout the day. Weakness in New York Central at decline of two points was not explained by specific development, but known necessity for raising of additional capital overhangs this stock and causes it to be depressed at intervals. Only a few other stocks of first importance got only a point away. There was evidence of support by market managers for various leading stocks, which served to reassure the sentiment. Closing quotations:

KANSAS WHEAT CROP.

This Year's Yield the Largest in the State's History.

The Kansas state board of agriculture recently issued a crop bulletin devoted especially to wheat, says a Topeka dispatch to the New York Tribune. Tabulated returns of assessors for each of the 105 counties in the state show the total winter wheat area this year to be 5,911,091 acres, and reports from thrashers, millers, growers and others indicate that the yield will average slightly more than 17.2 bushels an acre, or a total for the state of 99,270,000 bushels. As the ripening of the grain and harvest were somewhat delayed by the continuous cool, wet weather, thrashing likewise was begun later than usual, but is rapidly progressing now, though none has been done in many neighborhoods as yet, and reports of yields are variable.

This year's total production is greater by 85 per cent, or [illegible] bushels, than that of 1902 and surpasses even the 1901 yield of 90,045,514 bushels, making the largest crop in Kansas history. No state has ever even equaled the total Kansas wheat production of 1900, according to the United States department of agriculture, and this year's yield is better than that of 1900 by 18 per cent and 1901 by 17.5 per cent. In these three years Kansas raised winter wheat aggregating a total of 257,000,000 bushels, or an average of 85,670,000 bushels a year.

AMERICA'S CUP RACES

Contests For the Blue Ribbon of the Sea.

THIS IS THE THIRTEENTH RACE.

The Famous Yachting Trophy Was First Brought Over Here From England in 1851—All Previous Efforts of British Yachtsmen to Recapture It Unavailing.

The famous America's cup, the blue ribbon of the sea, which British yachtsmen have been trying to recapture for over half a century, was originally won by the Yankee keel schooner yacht America from a fleet of English cutters and schooners in a race around the Isle of Wight on Aug. 22, 1851.

The trophy, which is valued at 100 guineas, was presented by the Royal Yacht squadron of Cowes and the contest was open to the yachts of all nations. The cup is in the form of a silver pitcher and stands 27 inches in height, is 36 inches in circumference and weighs 134 ounces, or over 11 pounds.

The famous cup is kept in the vaults of Tiffany & Co. in New York and is seldom seen except on state occasions nowadays. It will be hard for Sir Thomas and his friends to drink a toast out of it, as either through constant use at dinners in the early days of its history or some mishap in later years it has no bottom.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock III. is the twelfth challenger for the cup, and this year's race will be the thirteenth.

It was not until 1857 that the owners of the yacht America, John C. Stevens, Hamilton Wilkes, George L. Schuyler, J. Beekman Findlay and Edwin A. Stevens, presented it to the yacht clubs of the world, through the New York Yacht club, as a perpetual international challenge trophy.

Although the cup was presented to the club in 1857, it was thirteen years later, or in August, 1870, before the first race for the cup was sailed, when the English schooner yacht Cambria, owned by James Ashbury, representing the Royal Thames Yacht club, raced against a fleet of the New York Yacht club and finished tenth, the schooner yacht Magic winning by 39m. 12s.

Mr. Ashbury challenged again the following year with the schooner Livonia, and as a result of negotiations between the two clubs he was only compelled to race one boat, the New York Yacht club having the right to name any boat it saw fit in the morning of the race. As a result of five races sailed in October, 1871, the Livonia won one race out of three from the schooner Columbia through the carrying away of the American yacht's steering gear, and was beaten by the schooner Sappho in two races.

There were no more races for the cup until 1876, when the Canadian schooner Countess of Dufferin, representing the Royal Canadian Yacht club of Toronto, raced against the American schooner yacht Madeleine in August of that year. The American beat won two straight races. In 1881 the Canadians challenged again, this time with a single sticker, but with no better success, the challenging Atalanta being easily beaten by the Yankee sloop Mischief. Four years later the cutter Genesta, owned by Sir Richard Sutton of England, came after the cup in 1885, only to be beaten by the Boston yacht Puritan in two straight races.

The following year, 1886, William Henn, an Irish yachtsman, challenged with the cutter Galatea, and it was the same old story, the Yankee yacht, Mayflower, winning the two races, sailed easily.

In 1887 the Scotch came after the cup with the Thistle, owned by James Bell and a syndicate of Clyde yachtsmen. This was the first cup challenger designed by William Fife, who is responsible for the present challenger, and she was supposed to stand a good chance. The American yacht, however, won with ease.

Six years passed before there was another challenge, when Lord Dunraven came over in 1893 with Valkyrie II. and was beaten by the Vigilant.

He challenged again in 1895 with Valkyrie III., and after being beaten by the Defender in one race and losing the second on a foul he withdrew his boat after crossing the line in the third race.

He afterward made charges of foul play against the owners of the Defender and, after a sensational trial before the New York Yacht club, was expelled from the club, of which he was an honorary member.

This episode put a stop to racing for a time, but in 1899 Sir Thomas Lipton challenged with Shamrock I., which was beaten by the Columbia in three straight races.

In 1901 Sir Thomas challenged again with Shamrock II., and after the most exciting series of races ever sailed for the cup the Columbia again won three straight races by the narrowest possible margin.

In the eleven contests thus far for the cup on this side twenty-eight races, or heats, have been sailed, and only once has the challenging yacht won a race, and that was when the schooner Columbia was disabled in 1871 and was beaten by the Livonia.

In 1885 the Puritan fouled the Genesta before the start of a race, and the race was awarded to the English yacht, but Sir Richard Sutton declined to take it, and the contest was resailed. In 1895 the Valkyrie II. beat the Defender forty-seven seconds, but the American yacht [illegible] through a [illegible], and the English yacht was disqualified and the race awarded to the Defender.

In 1901 the Shamrock II. finished two seconds ahead of the Columbia, but lost the race on time allowance.

LAID TO REST

Funeral of the Late Cicero Miller—Was Long a Jacksonville Resident.

Cicero Davis Miller was born in Jacksonville July 29, 1832, and departed this life Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in this city at Our Savior's hospital, aged 71 years and 24 days. Mr. Miller's sudden death surprised and shocked his many old friends and associates. Only a few days prior to his departure he was upon the streets conversing with his friends in his usual good health and spirits.

Cicero, or "Kit" Miller, as he was more familiarly known among his old friends in Jacksonville, having been called by that name by his schoolmates in the early 40s while attending school taught by Joel Headington in the basement of the old Christian church on North Main street where now stands the Turn Verein hall. The name "Kit," like any other good or pet name, will continue long after the death of the owner. Mr. Miller began his business career as a young man by clerking in the large dry goods house or store of Messrs. Kibboe & Lathrop.

He received a fairly liberal education in the common schools of this city and at Illinois college. On leaving college he served under his father, Ebenezer T. Miller, a short time as deputy postmaster, his father having been appointed by Gen. Zachary Taylor, president of the United States from the 4th of March, 1849, to 1853. While at New Orleans, La., before and in the first two years of the civil war he was with the firm of Ward, Hunt & Co., one of the largest cotton brokers in the south. During his residence and business engagement in New Orleans he was married to Miss Ada F. Brogden in 1858. On returning to Jacksonville, sometime in 1862, he was employed by the First Nation bank, conducted by the Wilson brothers, Hiram and George, and the late Felix G. Farrell. While at Jacksonville, his old home, and being an expert accountant, having an aptitude for straightening out confused and tangled accounts, he was engaged by Col. James Dunlap, brigade quartermaster under Gen. John A. McClernand, and before the final adjustment of Colonel Dunlap's complicated accounts with the government at Washington he was compelled to visit that city in final settlement thereof.

In the establishing and opening of the Jacksonville National bank on the north side of the square in 1870-1 Mr. Miller was made first cashier and continued to serve as such for four or five years most acceptably. After leaving the bank here he went to Chicago and was bookkeeper for the William Young Commission company until 1880. From thence he went to Omaha, Neb., and was in business with Gov. J. E. Boyd until 1884. Shortly thereafter he went to the Illinois penitentiary at Chester as manager for the Pettengill Shoe company.

On returning to Jacksonville, being skilled in accounts, he was employed as an expert accountant, thoroughly honest, capable and impartial, to go over the city's books and accounts.

As an expert bookkeeper, accountant and business man he had few equals and none superior in the middle west or the great Mississippi valley. He was singularly qualified to probe into and untangle complicated accounts and finances. In the respects above mentioned and many others which now cannot be named he was wonderfully proficient and skilled by nature and practice. His last regular employment for about eighteen months was in this city as bookkeeper for the William L. Alexander Mercantile company.

Mr. Miller was an intelligent, good citizen, well and favorably known as a capable and honest gentleman. His wife preceded him June 6, 1903, dying at her daughter's home, Mrs. George B. Treat, Hannibal, Mo. Four daughters and one son survive their father's death—Mrs. M. E. Rowley, of Peoria; Miss Frances L. Miller, of New York city; Miss Alice L. Miller, of Chicago. His son, Charles L. Miller, resides at San Antonio, Tex., and two brothers, Charles T., of St. Paul, and William K., of Jacksonville. His son and brother Charles were unable to attend his funeral on Sunday, the 16th of August, from the Episcopal church, Rev. Mr. John, rector, conducted the exercises at the church and at the grave in Jacksonville cemetery. The church choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Thy Will be Done." The honors were Judge Thomas B. Gray, Andrew Russel, M. F. Dunlap, Charles E. Dickson, James Dunlap and Peter Tilton.

Thus has passed away another one of Jacksonville's oldest and honored citizens. One by one the inhabitants of the beautiful, well known city proverbially known as the "Athens of the West," are passing away and those who survive and mourn their loss will ere long join them on life's farther shore.

Mrs. Mattie Bargdell died at her home in Oskaloosa, Iowa, Saturday morning, after an illness of two weeks.

Deceased was born a few miles east of Woodson in 1850, and spent a good part of her life in this county. For a number of years prior to her death she lived with her husband in Oskaloosa, Iowa.

She is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Tabitha Ransdall, and two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Routt and Mrs. Sarah Green.

The remains were brought to this city Sunday night at 9 o'clock. The funeral was held at the Christian church Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the services being in charge of Dr. G. W. Miller, of Woodson. The remains were laid to rest in Diamond Grove cemetery.

WIGHT.

After a most painful illness of four or five months, Mrs. Ann C. Wight closed her eyes in death at her home on South Main street, Jacksonville, during the early hours of Aug. 24, 1903.

Mrs. Wight was born Feb. 6, 1833, near Winchester, which was then in Morgan county, and was the eldest child of William and Rachael Marshall, who came from Yorkshire, Eng., in August, 1830. Her father having died when she was yet a child of eight years, she at once became the confidant and helper of her mother and the guardian playmate of her baby sister—now Mrs. Christie Armstrong. Early environment has so much to do with moulding our after-life habits, that we must believe that these circumstances had much to do with nurturing and promoting the probably inherent habit of thoughtful care for others, which the deceased always evinced. In subsequent years when the mother of this dutiful daughter became the wife of William King and the new relations of stepfather and four stepbrothers were to be met, she was still true to her mother and to duty, neither making or causing a discordant note in so mixed, but well-ordered a family. These pleasant relations existed through the deceased's entire life for she never spoke of any one of them but with extreme kindness. The subject of this sketch attended the school of Mrs. Anna Spencer after removing to Jacksonville, and afterward was a member of the first class of Illinois Female college, from which she did not graduate, but had nearly reached the required period. On June 27, 1859, she was married to David Wight, a returned Californian, and a widower with three daughters to claim her love and care which they doubtless received without stint. The eldest of these, Isabelle (Mrs. Charles March), of California, was an intimate companion of her stepmother and has continued her interest until this time.

The home at this time was on a farm near Mowequa, Ill., where the husband died not many years after their marriage, leaving an infant daughter, now Mrs. William Hall, of this city.

Mrs. Wight became a Christian in early life and was one of the charter members of Grace M. E. church of this city, and since that time, her walk has been Godly, her vision heavenward and she has lived all those years for the edification of those solution which came Monday morning.

We should have said in connection with her Christian life that some time in her after-life she became a Presbyterian—perhaps after her marriage and was a member of State Street church at the time of her decease, but always assisted Brooklyn and other churches when in need.

But her family and home life were the crown of her being. For many years after her widowhood she with her aged mother, Mrs. Rachel King, her two sisters, Mrs. Christie Marshall Armstrong and Miss Lizzie King, with the daughter Alice, lived together at the King homestead on South Main street, and no trio of daughters could have given an aged and infirm mother more loving care, and when she was called to her reward about ten years ago, three sisters were still indissolubly bound. The fragrance of the deceased one's affection, with her quet minisrations will long be remembered in the old home, where the sisters and daughter gave her such loving attention during her severe illness.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, pending word from relatives out of the city.

CYCLIST INJURED.

As Robert Reid was riding his wheel on South Main street he was met by two young fellows from the country who were racing. A collision resulted and Mr. Reid was knocked from his wheel and run over. Although he was considerably cut and bruised the men who were driving did not turn back to find out about his injuries.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mrs. Elizabeth Agron, an aged lady of Springfield, was struck by the Wabash afternoon train known as No. 9 at the Jackson street crossing about 12:40 Monday afternoon and instantly killed. She was wearing a sun bonnet and the train was upon her before the engineer noticed she was on the track. She was thrown about 25 feet and when the train crew reached her she was dead. She was the wife of Eugene Agron. The train was twenty minutes late in reaching here owing to the accident.
